It's simply that he's intent upon solving an intellectual problem, of which Jesus is part. And he wants to get some more information in order that he might analyze and explain this man to himself. Now this is always the problem of the intellectual. An intellectual is a man who has trained himself not to leap to conclusions.

As the Son of God, Jesus was an intellectual without compare. The way He spoke is evidence enough. His stories and images were simple and yet tax the finest intellect to fully interpret. They spoke to all men. His debating skills were extraordinary. In a split second, it seems, He could turn a question back on His interrogators to confound them in the profoundest way.

Intellectual ability of Jesus - The Real Christ

Many readers concluded from it that Jesus preaches the intellectual primitivism and parasitism. But Jesus meant a completely different thing! He spoke about the future blessedness not of panhandling parasites, but of people who renounced striving for material wealth and who did it not due to laziness, drunkenness, or other reasons like this, but due to spiritual creed — "due to spirit" and not "in spirit".

Intellectual Development - Teachings of Jesus Christ

We can as easily have an intellectual villain as an intellectual saint. Most of us understand the meaning of the title, "Christian," but, just in case, I will assume we can agree that a Christian is someone who believes in the Gospel, that Jesus IS fully God, was fully man, lived amongst us, died for our sins, and was resurrected and now abides in Heaven.

Can an Intellectual be a Christian

Jesus relates to the Intellectual Simply put, the modern church has not placed a sufficient value on intelligence as a necessary means for worshiping God. We tend to divorce concepts of faith and rational thought. Faith is seen as "spiritual" while knowledge is seen as "worldly."

Seeing Jesus as an Intellect | Come Reason's Apologetics Notes

"Jesus engaged in extensive disputes, some quite heated, mostly with the Jewish intellectual leaders of His day. He did not hesitate to call into account popular opinion if it was wrong. He spoke often and passionately about the value of truth and the dangers of error, and He articulated arguments to support truth and oppose error." (4)

Jesus: The Master of Critical Thinking - Reasons for Hope

Followers of Jesus today, therefore, should emulate His intellectual zeal, using the same kinds or arguments He Himself used. Jesus' argumentative strategies have applications to four contemporary debates: the relationship between God and morality, the reliability of the New Testament, the resurrection of Jesus, and ethical relativism.

Jesus gets into a boat and tells His disciples they should all go to the other side of the lake. Along the way, Jesus falls asleep. A storm starts to rage. Waves stretch high over the bow. And the boat starts to take on water. The whole time, Jesus stays asleep. The disciples hold on tight. They try to keep the boat afloat. Finally, Peter cries out to the still sleeping Jesus.
