Shelby Dade Foote, Jr. was an American novelist and a noted historian of the American Civil War, writing a massive, three-volume history of the war entitled The Civil War: A Narrative. With geographic and cultural roots in the Mississippi Delta, Foote's life and writing paralleled the radical shift from the agrarian planter system of the Old South to the Civil Rights era of the New South.

The Civil War: A Narrative by Shelby Foote

It seems pretty clear to me that the civil war narrative is just another marketing message from one or both sides of the political spectrum. It's a narrative that was not born naturally but instead has been purposely and carefully sculpted to produce an emotional effect in an attempt to sway public opinion. There's another word for that: propaganda
